

mySouthEastWater

Connecting you to your household usage and your Aquarevo community

mySouthEastWater and your Aquarevo home

mySouthEastWater is your online account management hub, giving you timely access to your water use information every day.

This can help you better control your water use and keep your water bill on track – making it the perfect complement to your Aquarevo home.

Once you've moved in, mySouthEastWater gives you access to:

- an hourly breakdown of how much drinking, rain and recycled water you've used in your home. (You can also choose to sign up to see your gas and electricity usage)
- personal water use targets for your household (including how you compare on average to all homes in the Aquarevo estate)
- a community board to help you connect with your future neighbours and stay up-to-date with estate news while your home is being built.

How does mySouthEastWater work?

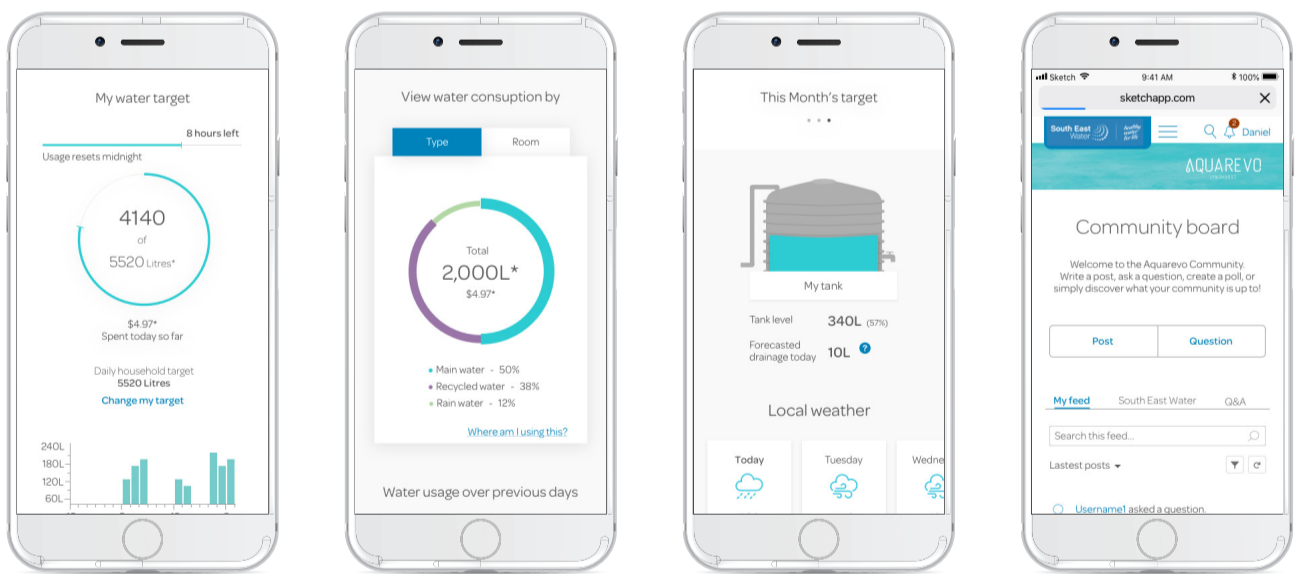

Your Aquarevo home will be connected to a OneBox® device that controls all the water technology in your home, remotely monitors the pressure sewer and reads your home's water and energy use – feeding this data back to your mySouthEastWater profile.

It's easy to get started. If you haven't registered yet, have your South East Water account number handy and visit mysoutheastwater.com.au

What you can expect to see

You'll get to access screens that show your water usage compared to your daily target, a water type comparison showing your rain, recycled and drinking water use, your rainwater tank level and the community board where you can post and respond to questions, among others.

Please note that your actual screens may differ from the conceptual designs shown below.

Innovative features of your Aquarevo home

Recycled water

Your home will be connected to a pressure sewer system that pumps wastewater to a soon-to-be-built water recycling plant within the estate. It will treat the wastewater to a Class A recycled water standard – and send it back to homes for non-drinking purposes like watering the garden or flushing the toilet.

Rain-to-hot water

Shower under hot rainwater with your high-tech rain-to-hot water system for bathing and showering.

Tank technology

Protect the local environment. Technology in your rainwater tank receives weather forecasts – then releases water before heavy rainfall to help minimise overflows or flooding in local waterways.
